Docket #: S83-007

Anti-Leu-12 (CD19) Monoclonal Antibody, 4G7

The 4G7 hybridoma secretes an IgG1 antibody that is specific for normal and malignant B lymphocytes and can be used for the study of B cell differentiation and for the characterization of lymphoid malignancies.

Publications

- Meeker, Timothy C. et al. A Unique Human B Lymphocyte Antigen Defined By A Monoclonal Antibody. B Cell Monoclonial Anitbody. (from the Departments of Medicine, Pediatrics and Pathology at Stanford University, Stanford, CA)

Innovators

- Ronald Levy

Licensing Contact

Michael Bellas

Licensing Associate

Email